DUESSELDORF, March 18.—Revolutions in France and Belgium against the Ruhr have not altered the views of the French and Belgians over the coal and steel properties of the Ruhr. The French insist that the additional shafts of state-owned mines had been occupied by the Germans and that they are in control of the Blumenthal mines, which are owned by the French troops and the French are planning to begin the shipment of coal to France.

Mines in Hands of French

The French are not known from official sources, but it is believed that in the hands of the French and Belgians are not from official sources, the number is seven. The miners of the Ruhr, the French and also the Belgian mines both held. Brottop, were occupied Saturday, the 12th, and the French miners in the Blumenthal region of the Ruhr mine in the region of Geisenkirchen.

The French are continuing to load coal cars by means of German miners.

From Paris, March 18.—A group of several thousand miners of the Amaia mine belonging to the French and Belgians are in contact with the Belgians for the purpose of getting a miners' agreement. The men ask for a seven hour day, payment in Belgian francs.

It was announced today that because of the miners' strike, the miners will pay a forty per cent tax to the French and Belgians, the first payment being made by the commission of control.

"SCANDAL" AT EMPIRE
You can't mix comedy and tragedy without there being some sort of an explosion.

you doubt the statement go to the New Empire theatre this week and see for yourself. "Scandal" in which the Allen Players present a new comedy success, "Scandal" can't be beat. As an added attraction for tonight the three sets promise to be visual entertainment.

As a play "Scandal" is an offering that defies too exactive a sum. The Allen Players have a moment in life there isn't a spot in town where they can't be seen. And, with its great comedy there is a genuine interest that everyone will enjoy and will well afford to take heart and learn something.

In Manager Allen's opinion "Scandal" is the best comedy of the day. It is the biggest comedy we have ever been fortunate enough to see. The Allen Players are the best. What the public verdict will be, I know, as well as any man in the city. It will be popular here if it has been during its career in New York and abroad.

When Mr. Allen brings his company to town we can rest assured that he is pretty certain of what the public verdict will be. It will be presented every evening this week, with matinées on Thursday and Saturday.

VLADIMIR ROSING

Unlike Chaliapin, the Russian tenor, who will sing in First Presbyterian Church on Tuesday evening, March 20th, is a personality. He is a voice of great power and beauty, but it is not of the lyrical quality that is so much in demand to associate with the Italian voice. Rosing, however, is a master of the dramatic voice, and is capable of dramatic emotion.

He has been singing in Chicago and New York, he was recalled time after time for his wonderful singing, and he has a number of other words that "the poet has a vision which he sets down in words, the which he sets down in words, the

ANOTHER PARTY TO BE HEARD.

The Mayor has to investigate the complaints of strikers against the police. But who is to investigate the complaints of the police against the strikers? A constable who was battered over the head with a length of water pipe or a hand-spoke may fairly think that his side of the case ought to be heard by somebody. It would be a "post mortem" inquiry into the incidents of battle.

THEY WILL DO IT

A young farmer at Assinibina, Sask., used gasoline to light a fire. He thought it was coal oil, but that it was made from gasoline in the outside of his house and exploded, and the young man is terribly burned, and likely to lose his sight, if not his life. No doubt he had read a hundred paragraphs like this one, and paid the same amount of attention that such warnings usually get.

THE OTHER SIDE OF THE CASE

Quite a number of people in Winnipeg are now so hot that they did not put their money in the banks instead of depositing it with the Dominion Ticker and Financial Corporation. They are so hot that they do not care about the banks. It has the advantage that a person who deposits money in one of the banks can get it when he wants it. That is a fact that does not get the amount of attention it ought to get in these days when so many are earning less because the banks will not lend other people money. People are so hot because the banks are not more liberal in that respect that why depositors are able to get their own money when they require it.

AN ENCOURAGING REPORT

An engineer, a member of the Dominion Government, says that from 40 to 85 barrels of gasoline per day could be extracted from the gas now escaping from the Okotoks well. That will help to stimulate interest in the quest for oil which will begin again with the opening of spring, at a dozen or more points in this province. Forty-five barrels per day would be a good start and would provide a daily revenue large enough to meet a pretty heavy bill for operating expenses and overhead and leave profit enough to pay dividends on any investment likely to be necessary to bore a hole. And if there is gasoline at Okotoks there probably is oil elsewhere in quantity.

ONE OF THE REASONS WHY.

The country is saved. The senate is taking the coal tract known as the Hoppe lease under its wing. A part of a parcel is being used to sell coal to a permanent customer for fear that some biased capitalist might spend his tainted money in building 80 miles of mountain railroad and developing an antracite coal mine in this country which has no antracite elsewhere. If such a thing should be hundreds of toilers would have to sweat and bleed to get the coal out. The coal miners would have to toil and sweat to mine the coal in order that bourgeoisie who are able to buy base-burner stoves or to install furnaces might have comfort in their homes. But it is not to be. The senate is attending to that at first hand. The senate and the I.W.W. are of one mind for once.

And we wonder why there is not more progress in Canada.

RATHER TOO MUCH

Representatives of Canadian railways and lake shipping lines have been telling the investing public that as far as possible as far as possible the United States railways were trying to get them to increase the freight rates on the 1923 wheat crop. That is true no doubt, but it does not explain much less justify the fact that rates were boosted. The Canadian transportation interests did not have any right to expect that the public would be interested across the line. Surely the lake steamship owners do not want us to suppose that they were frightened into compliance by a threat that the U.S. railways would haul Canadian wheat and rail it to the water? The Canadian public is right in the charity that "believe all things" but there are some things which simply will not go down. This theory that our national shipping interests were intimidated against their will into doubling the rates on wheat when the biggest crop in history had to be got out is rather more than even a trusting public can be expected to hold without difficulty.

HIGH FINANCE.

Under pressure of the city council the public school board has decided to limit its estimates to the figure of last year. But not its expenditure. The distinction is important. The board will demand from council the same sum as last year, but it intends to spend the extra $27,000, to be raised by issuing debentures against the proposed school building, by some slight method. That will enable council to keep the tax rate for the year down to 40 mills. But as the extra $27,000 is to be spent, of course it will have to be paid in future. The principle evidently is that what the taxpayer does not set in his pocket must be paid out of his pocket. It is a hard up side-step the necessity of doing any real economizing. It can still spend that $15,000 for school books to be distributed gratis for professional purposes, and will avoid the unpleasant duty of going over the spending program and bringing the outlay down in proportion as the income of the taxpayer has fallen.

BEGINNING STRONG.

Notice has come from the Attorney General's Department that the amount paid by the province toward the pensions of widowed mothers will have to be reduced in the interests of economy. Of course the real reason is that the board has up to this point been able to keep the tax rate down. That will enable council to keep the tax rate for the year down to 40 mills. But that does seem to be the best place to begin to retrench, and one of the places where retrenchment will not make much difference to the treasury. This official pronouncement will provide a standard by which to measure the estimated cost of the proposed school building next week. It sets up a claim to economic necessity which the Ministers will be expected to observe in regard to the outlay in other directions. If the province cannot continue to contribute its recognized share to the support of the woman who has failed to find a husband, it will be difficult to justify spending "as usual" in the same way.

The sessional indemnity, for instance, will surely be cut in half if we have got to the place where fatherless children must suffer because the provincial revenues have fallen away.

TRYING OUT.

Canadian shippers are losing no time about finding out what the removal of the British embargo is worth. The first store came to the shipper's door, but the man who made the first call left without a word. The second day did not come until the end of the month this advance contingent will be ready to pass through into the English feed-lots as soon as the barrier is removed.

This is the initial step in the re-establishment of the Canadian market in meat, and it is a new departure to the present generation of Canadian farmers and dealers. It is equally new, of course, to the present generation of British brokers and feeders. Both sides of the devils are in agreement of an experiment, and probably on both sides there is a lack of information and uncertainty as to the outcome. That uncertainty has not been at all lessened by the official and near-official estimates of the probable results. The prophets have in fact been as far apart as the stars in the interests they have been trying to directly affect. The Canadian farmer hopes that he will get better prices for his cattle because of the new demand for his unfinished stock. The British feeder no doubt hopes just as strongly that he will be able to pick up grass-fed steers for less money now that a new source of supply has been opened up.

He expects to get cheaper beef as a result of the change. On the other hand there are authorities in England who insist that British agriculture will suffer more from the addition of cheap cattle than the British public will suffer from the removal of the cost of beef; while in Canada there are those prominent in the business who claim that the Canadian farmer will lose more than he can gain if he does not fatten his cattle at home.

It is rather to be suspected that the English are trying to keep a modicum of their hopes, and will get something less than the discordant enthusiasts have led them to expect. An outlook for high prices for steers in Canada does not seem to fit in with the prospect of cheap feeder cattle in England and cheap steers to be shipped to the British market. That is the bottom line.

It is a long way from saying that the removal of the embargo will be of no benefit to the Canadian cattle-grower, the British feeder or the British consumer. It may be a particular benefit to one class, or the other. It is more likely that when we hear of this there will be divided more or less equally among all three.

Cattle prices in Canada are certainly low enough to warrant a hope that there will be an upward tendency as a result of the new demand. That is, if Canada produces the type of animal expected. The Canadian feeder will be able to pocket both climate, feed and circumstances. But it will be as well to not expect things out of reason. Canada is a good way from Britain, and Western Canada is a long way from the seaboard. The removal of the embargo does not present us with a trial of strength, but a trial of endurance. Our cattle will have to sell themselves as the product of every cattle-exporting country, and quality and price must conform to competitive conditions. With what financial result to the producers can only be discovered by experience.

A few days ago the Canadian Agriculture Department said the Government will take a hand in arranging for the lifting of the Alberta cattle embargo whether the lifting of the Alberta cattle growers will be of material benefit to them. A train load of cattle, most of them now wintering on the demonstration farm, will be sent to England probably next month as a means of finding out what the market is like in the spring. The cattle should be allowed to have the same small free range to which they are entitled.
